Characteristics of Parliamentary Democracy
Monarchy

1. Federal constitutional monarchy or commonly referred to as the Yang di-Pertuan Agong, is the head of state as well as the leader of the Islamic faith in Malaysia. This monarch is selected for a five-year term from among their own number by the nine hereditary rulers (sultans) of Peninsular Malaysia. (http://www.commonwealthofnations.org)
Parliament

Parliament is a legislative body in Malaysia and is responsible for passing, amending and repealing acts of law.

A general election is held every five years or when Parliament is dissolved by the Yang di-Pertuan Agong on the advice of the Prime Minister.

The age requirement to stand for election is 21 years and above.

Parliament consists of Dewan Rakyat and Dewan Negara.

The Dewan Rakyat consists of 222 members of Parliament (MPs) elected from single-member constituencies drawn based on population in a general election.

The Dewan Negara consists of 70 members (Senators); 26 are elected by the 13 state assemblies (2 senators per state), 4 are appointed by the Yang di-Pertuan Agong to represent the 3 federal territories (2 for Kuala Lumpur, 1 each for Putrajaya and Labuan). The rest 40 members are appointed by the Yang di-Pertuan Agong on the advice of the Prime Minister. Senators must be 30 years or above, and are appointed to a three-year term for a maximum of two terms.

Malaysian Studies by Dr Hasnah Husiin
• Malaysia practiced a separation of powers into three parts which are the:

a. Legislative
b. Judiciary and
c. Executive.
Federation System

- Federation system means each state in Malaysia has surrendered part of its power such as financial, defense, education, foreign affairs and others, as stated in the Federal Constitution, to be administered by the Federal Government. There are matters which are under the power of the state and each state administers those matters.
