LEARNING ACTIVITY # 8

INDIVIDUAL TASK

The procurement for public projects utilizes the public funds which come from the tax payers of the country. It is because of this, the procurement process is referred to as 'public procurement'. There are certain principles which must guide the public procurement process. These principles flow through every aspect of the procurement process. This is to ensure that districts get the best value for money in their use of public funds and that the whole community benefits from the process, not just one or two individuals.

Find out what the principles of public procurement are and how they apply in practice.

Discuss all the scenarios given and answer the accompanying questions.
