

Group discussions

Communications between cells are important to ensure the functionality of the cells. With your information on the signalling molecules, perform a debate on how the communications between cells.